The preparation of examination question papers

1. All question papers relating to assessment which contribute to progression or award must be set by the Module Convenor and at least one other marker, under the oversight of the Chair of the Board of Study. In drawing up the examination paper, the Module Convenor setting the paper should normally consult with all members of the module teaching team. Once the Module Convenor signs off the academic content of the draft question paper, the Chair of the Board of Study will check it prior to passing it to the Dep
